

Version June 2021

Refund Policy

As with all spiritual healing and coaching work, no guarantees can be made as to your personal outcome. Each person will experience different results, even if exposed to the same work, as each person has a different consciousness, different spiritual strength, faith and a different amount of “negative load” on them (negative karma from this and/or other lifetimes). Also one or two healings might just not be enough to deal with all these issues you could have.

An important part of your attaining results is the actions you take and how much you implement your assignments and work on yourself (self love, forgiveness, prayers, positive thinking). Your practitioner will follow procedures as well as their highest guidance and aim to do their best work, to stay in authenticity and integrity with God, to uphold your highest purpose and potential in heart, and to do all they can during your appointment to support you within the agreed-upon times and services you have purchased.

- After a healing allow minimum the 30 days detox period to pass, so we can determine the real outcome of your healing session.
- If you feel you did not receive the described service during your appointments and are absolutely unhappy with the service and the outcome, you may choose a full refund up to 50 days after you initial appointment.

Cancellation Policy

We understand that everyone misses an appointment once in a while. At the same time, we would like to keep our practitioners' schedules full of responsible clients who are ready to move forward and are fully willing to keep they online appointment. With this in mind, here is our current cancellation policy:

- If you cancel or reschedule 12 hours ahead of your appointment, there will be never a penalty

- A one time cancellation shorter than 12 hours before the appointment or a completely missed healing session will be rescheduled with no penalty.
- The second missed appointment (cancellation shorter than 12 hours) will not be refunded and when your service concludes, you will not be allowed to renew.

Disclaimer

Spiritual Healing & Consultation LLC, Dr. Ramin Mobasseri and his associates are not licensed medical professionals and do not diagnose nor treat medically. No service or product offered by Spiritual Healing & Consultation LLC, Dr. Ramin Mobasseri or his duly authorized representatives is intended, in any way - explicit, implicit, by implication, or in reference - to be a substitute or replacement for competent, traditional, licensed, professional medical care.